THE TRAILL AND SPENCE FAMILIES OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

By CAPT. GEO. A. GORDON, Genealogist of the N. H. Society of Colonial Wars.

The forbears of the Traill and Spence families have been long established in the Orkneys, a group of islands in the North Sea off the coast of the extreme northern point of Scotland. Anderson, in Genealogy and Surnames, (Edinburgh, 1885), asserts that the name Traill was originally Tyrrell. Fordun's Scottish Chronicle, a reputable authority, says the Bishop of St. Andrews, Scotland, A. D. 1385-1406, spelled his name Walterus Treyl. A nephew of the Bishop, Sir Thomas Treyl, was victor in a tournament at Berwick, in the reign of Robert III, 1390-1406. Robert Keith's Catalogue of Scottish Bishops, (Edinburgh 1824), declares Bishop Treyl to have belonged to the house of Blebo, Fifeshire. Sir James Balfour's Ms., (London 1724), says the Bishop purchased the lands of Blebo and transmitted them to his posterity. Alexander Trail, of Blebo, flourished A. D. 1564-1583; after whom occur three John Trails, in succession, to 1622. In 1567, this entry is made in the family history, "About this time, two of the younger sons of the house of Blebo went to the Orkneys." The family, seated in Fifeshire, commonly write the name, Treil; while their kinsmen in the Orkneys invariably write, Traill. Alexander der Traill, of Blebo, was a subscriber to the bond in defence of King James VI, in 1567.

ARMS: Nisbet's Heraldry, quoting the Lyon register, says: The crest of the Trails of Blebo is a column set in the sea, proper, with the motto, Discrimine salus. This crest and motto date from 1418, when an Alexander Traill, being shipwrecked, was saved by clinging to a rock in the surf.

The arms of the first Traill of Blebo, nephew of the Bishop of St. Andrew, are given: Azure; a chevron between two mascles, in chief, or; and a trefoil, slipped, in base, within a bordure waved, argent.

The Orkney families have similar blazon.

The seal of Walter Trayl, Bishop of St. Andrews, exhibits the same shield, supported by two lions.

James Trayle seals with a similar device, 1467, and likewise John Traill, baillie of St. Andrews, 1523.

Sir Robert Stewart, of Strathdon, a natural son of King James V, by Euphemia Elphinstone, a daughter of Alexander, (the first Lord Elphinstone, slain at Flodden, 1513), and wife to John Bruce, of Cultmalindie, received a grant from his half sister, Mary, Queen of Scots, in 1565, of vacant crown lands in the Orkneys. In 1581, Sir Robert Stewart was created Earl of Orkney, by King James VI. His son, John, was created, 1633, Earl of Carrick. Robert Stewart, of Strathdon, married Janet Kennedy, a sister of Gilbert, fourth Earl of Cassilis, d. 1576, whose wife (m. 1566) was Margaret Lyon, a daughter of John, ninth Lord Glamis, d. 1553. She married (2) John Hamilton, first Marquis, who died 1604. She died, twice widowed, in 1616.

1. GEORGE¹ TRAILL, a son of Alexander Traill of Blebo, Fifeshire, married Janet Kennedy, of Carnunks, a great-granddaughter of the second Earl of Cassilis, who was the victim of a murderous assault, in 1527. She was a kinswoman of Sir Robert Stewart's wife and accompanied them to the Orkneys. George Traill settled on the island of Rousay, at Quarndal, about A. D. 1580. (See Bell's Life of Q. Mary).

Children:

2. i, THOMAS,
3. ii, ELSPETH, m. Edward Pottinger.

His wife dying, George Traill, married Isabel Craigie, a daughter of the Craigies of Gairsay. They had thirteen children, seven sons and six daughters, viz:

4. i, ROBERT.
5. ii, JAMES.
6. iii, WILLIAM.
7. iv, JOHN.
8. v, PATRICK, b. 1627, d. 1690; m. Elspeth Pottinger.
9. vi, HUGH.
10. vii, GEORGE,

11. viii, JEAN; m. John Howison.
12. ix, BARBARA; m. Patrick Fea.
13. x, ANABEL.
14. xi, MARGARET.
15. xii, HELEN; m. Thomas Kirkness.
16. xiii, ELSPETH; m. Edward Mowat.

2. THOMAS² TRAILL, of Holland, was a colonel in the service of Gustavus Vasa, King of Sweden. On return from the continental wars, he purchased an estate, Papay Westray, on the island of Rousay (Rolf's isle), which he named Holland, and transmitted the title to his descendants. He married, 1632, Marian Craigie, a sister of his father's second wife.

They were daughters of Sir William Craigie, of Gairsay.

Children:

17. i, GEORGE; m. 1666, Katherine Baikie; (2) 1669, Mary Graham; (3) 1705, Marjorie Foulis.
18. ii, PATRICK, b. 1641; m. 1669, Elspeth Baikie.
19. iii, THOMAS, of Skail, Westray; m. 1675, Elspeth Scolley.
20. iv, WILLIAM; m. Isabel Graham.
21. v, ELIZABETH; m. 1662, George Liddell.

5. JAMES² TRAILL, of Westove, married, 1668, Jean Cok, a daughter of Rev. Thomas Cok, of Ladykirk, Sanday.

Children:

22. i, THOMAS, d. 1689; m. Anna Graham.
23. ii, GEORGE, b. 1650; m. Elizabeth Irving, Anna Baikie.
24. iii, WILLIAM.
25. iv, NICOLA, b. 1655, d. 1688; m. David Covingtrie.
26. v, JEAN; m. Magnus Craigie.
27. vi, BARBARA; m. John Ogilvy.
28. vii, MARJORIE; m. Thomas Loutit, John Nisbet.

24. WILLIAM³ TRAILL, of Woodwick, a handsome estate on the southwest coast of the island of Rousay, known as Westness, married 15 November, 1679, Barbara Balfour, oldest daughter of George and Marjorie (Baikie) Balfour, of Pharay. Marjorie Baikie was baptized 6 June, 1659, a daughter of James and Barbara (Smith) Baikie, of Tankerness.

The island of North Ronaldsay is included in the estate of Woodwick. Before the erection of lighthouses, this island was much dreaded by mariners, so frequent were shipwrecks on its shores.

Children:

29. i, GEORGE; m. 1712, Margaret Ballenden.
30. ii, WILLIAM.
31. iii, JAMES, b. 1683, d. 1733; m. 1712, Margaret Traill.
32. iv, MARJORIE, b. 1691; m. 1715, Charles Stewart.
33. v, JOHN, b. 1694, d. 1757; m. 1724, Mary Gale. Was a merchant of Boston, Mass.
34. vi, DAVID.

30. WILLIAM⁴ TRAILL of Westness, married 16 January, 1714, Isabel Fea, a daughter of William Fea, of Milnfield. In 1706, he was a burges of Kirkwall.

Children:

- 35. i, WILLIAM, bap. 15 April, 1715; m. Miss Mocard. Lieutenant in the Royal Navy of Great Britain.
- 36. ii, ROBERT.
- 37. iii, MARY.
- 38. iv, ISABEL.
- 39. v, BARBARA.
- 40. vi, MARJORIE.

36. ROBERT⁵ TRAILL, born on the island of Rousay, in the Orkneys, married in the summer of 1748 (intentions published at Boston, 9 July, 1748) Mary Whipple, born at Kittery, 13 January, 1728, a daughter of William and Mary (Cutts) Whipple, and sister of Gen. William Whipple, of Portsmouth, N. H., a signer of the Declaration of Independence of the United States of America. Robert Traill was a burges of Kirkwall, in 1765. He was a merchant at Boston and Portsmouth, between 1750 and 1785. He was the last comptroler of the port of Portsmouth, under the crown. In 1766, on his petition, the General Assembly of New Hampshire, passed an act, viz: "To secure to Robert Traill, Esq., the sole profit and advantage of Brewing and Vending Strong Beer, in that part of the province, lying on the North-erly and Easterly part of the Merrimack river, for the term of ten years.

Robert Traill died at London, 22 February, 1785. His widow died at Portsmouth, N. H., 3 October, 1791.

Children:

- 41. i, JOHN, b. 1749, d. infant.
- 42. ii, ROBERT, b. 1751, d. in England, unmarried.
- 43. iii, MARY, b. 1753, d. 1824; m. Keith Spence.
- 44. iv, WILLIAM, b. 1755; m. ——— Colebrook and resided in London. Issue, a son, who died unmarried.

It will now be apparent that the genealogy of the Traills here passes into the Spence family, as the only descendants of Robert Traill derive issue from his daughter, Mary, wife to Keith Spence.

SPENS . . . SPENCE.

This family, long seated at Lathallan, Stirlingshire, and noted in Scotland as of high antiquity, is descended from Maeduff, Earl of Fife, as is evidenced by the red lion rampant in its armorial bearings.

When the Lyon register (Scotland) was formed in 1672, two gentlemen of the Lathallan Spences registered coats with the lion and a bend, as was found on the seal of David Spens, 1549. Spence, of Berrihole, was allowed a boar's head, erased, between two barrulets. In 1764, Thomas Spens, of Lathallan, recorded the bend, without the lion, adding two boars heads, one in chief and the other in base. In 1766, the same gentleman entered his arms, the lion and the bend, with a Campbell quartering. In 1780, he once more registered, discarding the bend, but surrounding the lion with a bordure, gules, charged with eight roses, argent, indicating descent from Dunbar. Other branches of the family are designed:

Of Kilspindy, who attained eminence in the reigns of Kings James I, and James II.

Of Bodham, Aberdeenshire, who were free barons as early as the time of King James III. From them proceeded Count de Spens, of the Swedish nobility, generalissimo of the forces of Sweden.

Of Wolmentum, a member of which was ambassador, in 1546, from Scotland to Sweden; more statesmen, politicians and soldiers proceed from this family than either of the others.

Of Craigsanquhar, prominent in Fifeshire, since 1792, when they recovered estates, formerly held by the Spences, but alienated for more than a century. They derive origin from a younger son of the 16th Laird of Lathallan, and are survivors, today.

At the submission of the Scottish nobility to King Edward III, of England, in 1296, this family had two representatives, Henry de Spens and Nicol de Spens. A son of Henry, Thomas de Spens, was associated, in 1320, with Sir Robert Keith, great Marischal of Scotland. The firm intimacy between these gentlemen introduced the name, Keith, to the Spens family; though Thomas, Robert and William are common. About 1435, the barony of Lathallan became forfeit to the crown. The Earl of Fife was dispossessed and the dignity and estates conferred on Spens, and have so continued. Sir Patrick Spens commemorated in the ancient ballad, was of Aberdour, Fifeshire. The earliest seals of the family, known, are those of William de Spens, 1425; Hugh, 1428; John, 1444; Robert, 1456; Thomas, Bishop of Galloway, 1451.

1. KEITH¹ SPENCE born at Kirkwall in the Orkneys, a son of James and Janet (Blaw) Spence, came to New England shortly before, or during, the Revolutionary War. He followed a mercantile life at Boston and Portsmouth. At the latter, he married Mary Trill (43), and resided at Portsmouth. He was appointed a purser in the United States navy, 10th of May, 1800, and served on the frigate Philadelphia, under Captain Bainbridge. When the frigate fell into the power of Tripoli, in 1803, Spence was, with the other officers, captured, plundered, and confined in prison. On release, he resumed his position in the navy. He died the 26th September, 1826, at New Orleans, while attached to the West India squadron. Mrs. Spence died at Portsmouth, 13th January, 1824.

Children:

CHANGE OF DATE.

At the request of many of the subscribers of The New Hampshire Genealogical Record the date of Number 1, of Vol. IV, of this magazine has been changed from July, 1906, to January, 1907. This change is made so as to have the whole volume come within the year, which is much the best. The subscription list of this magazine is continually growing, but the growth is slow; will the subscribers make an earnest effort to each secure another subscriber. The editor assumed the expense of the magazine, hoping to put it on a paying basis for The New Hampshire Genealogical Society. So far it has not paid its expenses. While at present there is no thought of discontinuing the magazine, yet it is apparent to every person that at some time there must be a limit, if it should not pay its expenses. The usefulness of the society would be greatly impaired without the magazine; the one cannot thrive well without the other. The society has made rapid progress during the three and one half years of its existence, especially in the direction of collecting a library; it is equally important for the society to have a good, first-class magazine. We intended to have doubled the number of pages of the magazine before this time.

AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY NAVAL SERVICE.

LAUNCHING OF THE CONTINENTAL FRIGATE RALEIGH.

[Taken from Vol. 1, No. 1, of "The Freeman's Journal or New Hampshire Gazette" of Saturday May 25, 1776.]

Portsmouth May 25, 1776.

On Tuesday the 21st inst. the Continental Frigate of thirty-two guns, built at this place, under the direction of John Langdon, Esq. was Launched amidst the acclamation of many thousand spectators. She is esteemed by all those who are judges that have seen her, to be one of the completest ships ever built in America. The unwearied diligence and care of the three Master-Builders, Messrs. Hacket, Hill and Paul, together with Mr. Thompson under whose inspection she was built, and the good order and industry of the Carpenters deserve particular notice; scarcely a single instance of a person being in liquor, or any difference among the men in the yard, during the time of her building, every man with pleasure exerting himself to the utmost; and altho' the greatest care was taken that only the best of timber was used and the work perform'd in a most masterly manner, the whole time from her raising to the day she launched did not exceed sixty working days, and what afforded a most pleasing view (which was manifest in the countenance of the spectators) this noble fabrick was compleatly to her anchors in the main channel, in less than six minutes from the time the run, without the least hurt; and what is truly remarkable, not a single person met with the least accident in launching, tho' near five hundred men were employed in and about her when run off.

NOTE.—Before closing the record of the Continental frigate Raleigh, the intention was to publish a list of the prisoners, taken when the Raleigh was captured by the British at Wooden Ball Island, but the record, if preserved, has not yet been received from England; if it comes to hand later we will publish the same.

THE CONTINENTAL FRIGATE BOSTON.

It was our intention at first, to take up the Continental frigate Ranger next, but accidentally finding the original list of names of the officers and men belonging to the Continental frigate Boston, 1777, and several other very important papers, reports and plans, together with a Journal of one of the cruises of the Boston, and as a part of the crew were New Hampshire people it has been decided to publish the list and one of the reports, of Capt. Hector McNeil, her commander, especially as it is believed that the list and report have never been published.

The Boston was one of the thirteen cruisers, ordered by Congress, December 13, 1775. She was built at Boston, Mass., and named after that city. She was a 24-gun frigate, and proved to be a slow vessel, though the Hancock, a 32-gun frigate, ordered by Congress at the same time and built at Boston, was one of the fleetest vessels in the American navy. Capt. Hector McNeil, of Boston, was appointed commander of the Boston, and Capt. John Manly, commander of the Hancock. By a resolution of Congress passed on October 10, 1776, the name of Capt. Hector McNeil was placed third on the ranking list of Captains, in the navy, with that of Capt. John Manly as second on the list.

Capt. Hector McNeil was born October 10, 1728, in the little village of Dunseverick, near Giants Causeway, in the Parish of Ballintoy, Antrim County, Ireland. He was son of Malcolm and Mary (Stuart) McNeil of that place, and grandson of Neal McNeil, a Scotchman, born in Kintyre, in the west of Scotland, who following the fortunes of the House of Stuart went to France, but later returning settled in the north of Ireland and married a woman by the name of O'Neil. Malcolm McNeil and family sailed from Portrush, Ireland, in July, 1737, in the ship Syggemauh, Daniel Gibbs, commander, and arrived in Boston, Mass. the seventh of September following. The Syggemauh was a vessel of about 240 tons burden and had near 470 persons on board, twenty-seven of whom died during the passage, mostly of the measles. The parents of Capt. McNeil settled in Boston, and he was educated in the public schools of that city. He went to sea in the seventeenth year of his age, and in June, 1750, before he was twenty-two years old, he was made master and given the command of a vessel. In July, 1755, he was taken into the King's service and carried a part of Gen. Moncton's command in the expedition against Beausejour, a French fortress. In the following October, he was released from the King's service, together with the vessel he commanded. He was an ardent supporter of the American Revolution. The story of the first cruise of the Boston can best be told in the language of Capt. McNeil himself. The following is a transcript of the original corrected draft, a copy of which formed his official report to the Marine Committee. This original draft, together with several other papers, letters, ten plans of the battle of July 7, 1777, giving the positions of the six ships engaged, at as many different times, beginning at four o'clock in the morning and ending with the dispersion of the fleet, and a copy of the Journal of Benjamin Crowningshield, the historian of the cruise, have all come down as heir-looms in the family of Capt. McNeil and at present are owned by Hon. Charles W. Gray, of Portsmouth, N. H., who has kindly loaned them to the editor for the purpose of this sketch. It will be seen that a new chapter in the history of the Revolution will have to be written, for the record of the Boston, as given by J. Fenimore Cooper, in his History of the Navy of the United States of America, and followed by Edgar Stanton Maclay, A. M., John R. Speers and others, without verifying the same, proves to be almost wholly fiction, utterly unworthy of the pen of Mr. Cooper, as a historian.

ORIGINAL DRAFT OF REPORT OF CAPT. HECTOR
McNEIL, TO THE MARINE COMMITTEE OF CONGRESS.

GENTLEMEN.

I think it my duty to give you as particular an account of my late Cruise, as the hasty departure of the present opportunity will admit of.

On the 21st of May I saild from Nantasket in Company with Capt. Manley and eight or ten small privateers, some of whom parted with us by choice, and the remainder by bad weather in Six days after we Sail'd; Capt. Manley & myself were so lucky as to keep Company except Two Nights in the worst of the Gale of Wind which happened to be easterly.

On Thursday afternoon the 29th of May we fell in with a small Brigg from London for New York which we took, and Man'd that Evening; they acquainted us that they came out under Convoy of the Somerset & Mercury, with 16 Sail of Transports having on board about 3500 Troops, for Reinforcing the British Army at New York.

At break of day the 30th we discover'd the Somerset and three large Ships under her Convoy. Capt. Manley was not convinced of the size of our Opponent untill she was within Shott of him, when very luckily for him the Hancock's Heels saved his Bacon. She nevertheless pursued him with great earnestness untill I tack'd upon her Convoy who was a good way astern of her at that time, as soon as she saw me within raudom Shott of them she left Capt. Manley & return'd to their protection, she then chac'd me about Six hours but not being able to come up with me she rejoin'd her Convoy just as night came on.

Capt. Manley & myself then Steer'd to the Eastrd and Northrd in hopes of falling in with some others of the fleet, but saw no Enemy except a few miserable Fishermen untill Saturday June the Seventh, on the Morning of which day we fell in with the Fox, a British Frigate of 28 Guns Commanded by Capt. Patrick Fotheringham, she at first meant to Engage but thought 'twas best to try her Heels, which would have effectually Saved her from me, but the Hancock coming up with her an Action ensued which did not end untill after we came up by which time the Hancock & the Fox were both very much damaged.* The weather proving unfavourable for some time afterwards we were severall days fitting the Fox & Capt. Manley his own Ship. I had sent my first Lieu' (Mr Browne) on board the Fox the day she was taken but Captain Manley refused giving him the Command, & I was finally oblig'd to withdraw him for the sake of peace.

*Benjamin Crowningshield, one of the crew of the "Boston," in his Journal, under date of June 7, 1777, says, "At 5 A. M. we made a large ship laying by. Our two ships stood for her; at 6 A. M. Capt. Manly & she Exchanged some guns and then she Run, & we in full Chace after her. . . . Betwixt the hours of 12 & one P. M. Capt. Manly Began to Engage Broadside & Broadside, our ship coming up fast as Posable; at last up we came and gave them a Noble Broadside which made them to strike a medeatly a Bout half after one." This statement effectually disproves the cold-blooded murder story that this broadside was deliberately fired after the "Fox" had surrendered.—Ed.

I urged Capt. Manley to make the best of our way to Charlestown, South Carolina, there to Join Captain Biddle, fitt & clean our Ships, & then to Cruise for the West India Fleet untill towards the fall of the year by which time our own Coast would probably be clear & we might return without any risque compared with what must be now Expected, he at first attended to my proposal but afterwards did as he pleas'd the event will prove whether I judge right or not in short we loiter'd away three weeks or a Month before we sett our faces homeward by which time the Coast of New England from Cape Sable as far as New York was so cover'd with cruisers that there was no escaping them.

On Sunday the 6th of July being 15 leagues to the Eastw^d of Cape Sable we took a Sloop from Louisburgh bound for Halifax, but delaying some time with her we were chac'd towards evening by three Ships, we also being three, we did not make any efforts to avoid those Ships in Course of the night, on the Contrary Capt. Manley Tow'd the Sloop before spoken of untill next morning by which time one of the Ships was a head of us and Tack'd upon us, the Second Ship which was a two decker was on our Lee quarter about three Leagues from us and the third Ship about as far right a Stern. Capt. Manley then thought proper to sett fire to the Sloop & quitted her and endeavour'd to make the best of our way, but the first Ship being up within Shott about noon we exchanged some Shott with her at a distanee & then having spoke Capt. Manley we agreed to tack and Engage her. We immediately Tack'd and Capt. Manley begun the Action with his head to the Northward & the Enemy on the opposite Tack, we being close under the Hancock's Stern also fell in with the Enemy in our turn and Exchanged about five broad Sides with her; her Shott was so well aim'd that some of them pass'd through our Ship under the wale so that we could not Tack upon the Enemy untill we had stop'd those holes; this was however done in a few Minutes but not before the two deck Ship had gotten very near us, unfortunately the Fox did not tack at the same time we did, by which means the Enemy got between her and us, and she was obliged to pass under the fire of the first Ship above mention'd and the fire of the two deck Ship also. Capt. Manley seeing that the Fox was beyond Saveing put about and stood to the South^d, the Fox bore away and run to the Eastw^d, and we kep't the Wind to the Northw^d. The two deck Ship then put about and follow'd the Hancock leaving the Fox and me to the other two Ships. The Fox fled and defended herself bravely, haveing also some advantage in point of Sailing; we were constrain'd to keep the Wind for our own Security being neither able to run from nor fight such force as then appear'd to Leward. In a few hours we saw two more of the Enemy about two points on our weather bow; from these we were obliged to Tack to the Southw^d, the wind about W. B. S. After Standing two hours to the Southw^d, we espied another Ship bearing S. W. of us who appeared to be in chace towards us. I then hove about to the Northw^d again & stood on untill Nine o'Clock the Evening; the chace coming down upon us very fast all the time. As soon as the Moon was down I tack'd and Stood to the Southw^d, and in less than an hour saw the Lights of the Chacing Ship Standing athwart our Stern about $\frac{3}{4}$ of a Mile from us. On Tuesday Morning the 8th Current I saw five Sail of the Enemy to the Leward of me three on the Lee bow and two on the Lee Quarter, at the same time saw Cape Sable bearing N. N. E. five leagues. The Wind coming to the Southw^d I stood across the Bay of Fundy determin'd to Shelter myself in the first port I could make, and get intelligence, which happened to be this river where I arriv'd on Thursday the 10th Instant. On my arrival here I found that the Milford Frigate had been in about fourteen days past & that she had penetrated up as far as we now are—Namely at Wichcasset point. There is scarce a day but one or two of the Enemys Ships are Seen off the Mouth of this river and the Coasting Vessells are very much distress'd; in this my present Situation I am much at a Loss what to do—my Ships Company are so diminished by Manning the *Fox & the Men otherwise Lost since we Sail'd from Boston; my Ship is very Fowl (not having been clean'd since Novemb^r last) and besides that we cannot make her Sail fast trim which way we will, the certainty of meeting the Enemy in pairs along the Coast and only two ports capable of yielding us Shelter between this place & Boston Bay, all those Circumstances Considered I think it prudent to stay for a few days to get some more authentic information of the Numbers and Strength of the Enemy in this quarter

*In a letter to Mrs. Mary McNeil, his wife, dated July 21, 1777, Capt. Hector McNeil states, that fifty-eight men had been taken from the "Boston" to man the "Fox," including Mr. Gross, Mr. Harris, Mr. Knowles and Mr. Millen. The latter name was probably intended for Mulling, or Mullen.—Ed.

for according to the present accounts I think it is impossible for Single Ships to pass or repass, without being sacrificed to their numerous fleet, we have certain Accounts of twelve Sail of the Enemys Crusiers between Cape Ann & Cape Sable severall of whom are large Ships, our best accounts report two between this river & Casco bay which is but two bays apart so that they are posted along Shore at convenient Distances to Succour each other. I send you a return of the Prisoners which I have brought here belonging to the For but for fear of Accidents have delivered them into the hands of the Committee of Safety to be forwarded towards Boston. Thither I shall repair as soon as possible from which place I promise my help the pleasure of Writing you more fully.

I am Gentlemen with all possible respect, y^r

Most Humble Serv^t

Ship Boston at Wichcasset in Sheepscott River, 16th July, 1777.

EXTRACTS FROM THE JOURNAL OF BENJAMIN CROWNSHIELD.

Before closing the record of the Continental frigate Boston, it may be well to give the description of the battle of July 7, 1777, as found in the Journal of Benjamin Crowningshield, who was one of the crew of the Boston. In his Journal under date of July 7, 1777, is the following.

“At 6 o’clock P. M. [July 6,] see two vessels to the Eastward of us, at 4 A. M. see them again Bearing to the Eastward. Still at 5 A. M. made a saile Bearing to S. W. we going W. b. S. She past us & gave us two guns, as soon as she got in our wake she pnt about and stood for us and came up with us fast and we play’d away with our Stairn Chasers. At 11 A. M. Capt. Manly & the Fox & our Ship put about & stood for her; at 35 minutes after 11 we began to Engage & had it very warm. The Fox being to Leward the frigate at her & she Run before the wind. There was a two Decker under our Lee, we ware a stoping our shot holes we thought it not safe to follow. At 12 P. M. Capt. Manly put about stood after the Fox, the two Decker gave chase to him and fir’d sev’ral guns he stood away as fast as posable. The frigate and Fox made a Running fight, they stood away about N. N. E. we stood about N. W. B. N. We lost sight of Capt. Manly about 4 P. M. But we keep sight of the Fox & frigate till dark and could see the frigate’s two guns shot off [at] the Fox and thought the Fox gain’d of her. The frigate mounted 32 or 36 guns. We are surrounded with ships all Round. At 6 [o’clock] we heard guns for a long time. We Expect some Engagement soon.

RAND.—MARTIN.—Moses Rand born? died at Barnstable, N. H. 1810. A Revolutionary soldier, married Lydia⁴ Wentworth, (Jonathan³, Ephraim², Eld. William¹). Lydia Wentworth was baptized May 28th, 1752, died at Barnstable, N.H. 1806, age 54.

Their children were Betsey, married Jonathan Bunker, of Barnstead; Sarah, married Reuben Sanborn, of Barnstead; Lydia, married Edward Leighton; Phebe, married John Wallace; Ruth, married ——— Tuttle; Abigail, married John G. Shannon, of Gilmanton.

Moses Wentworth married Mary⁵ Sanborn, (John⁴, David³ Joseph², Lieut. John¹) and died in the war of 1812. Jonathan, unmarried, died in the war of 1812. Samuel, lived and died in Barnstead.

Moses Rand born? died 1810, was the son of John Rand and Isabel Martin. "Old Families of Salisbury and Amesbury" by Hoyt, gives the record of George³, (Richard² George¹) Martin, born? married April 25th, 1706, Isabel Beedle (or Bettel) daughter of Robert Beedle (or Bettel) and they had eight children, among whom was Isabel, born 1720.

Was this Isabel Martin, born 1720, the wife of John Rand, and when and where were they married?

There were Rands in Dover, and Rye, also some births in Boston from 1700 to 1800.

Samuel and Sarah Rand, had many children. They had one son John born April 26, 1725.

Can any one assist in finding this marriage?

CILLEY.—MORRILL.—Captain Cutting⁴ Cilley, (Joseph³, Thomas², John¹), born 1738, died Northfield, 1825, married Martha? Morrill 1761.

Her ancestry desired, also birth and death.

(Mrs.) L. B. Ingalls.

62. SHERBURNE.—Can any reader inform me where I may procure a copy of The Tourist's Guide to Europe, written by Col. John Henry Sherburne and published in 1847, by Zeigler of Philadelphia?

Col. John Henry Sherburne, referred to in the above query, was sixth in descent from Henry Sherburne, who settled in Portsmouth, N. H. in 1632, who was seventh in descent, through a younger son, of Sir Richard Sherburne, of Stonyhurst Hall, Lancashire, England.

Col. John Henry Sherburne was the author of the first Life of John Paul Jones, written in English, and he made an attempt, about 1850, to recover the body of the naval hero for return to the United States.

Any information will be gratefully received.

(Miss) Ella M. Sherburne Spurling.

THE GOV. LANGDON HOUSE, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., ERECTED 1784.
The New Hampshire building to be erected at the Jamestown Exposition is to be exactly like this house and furnished with furniture of the same style as that used by Gov. John Langdon. In this house Gen. Washington dined several times, during his visit to Portsmouth in 1789, and here later Louis Philippe, afterwards King of France, was entertained.

*This name is usually given in these records as Hogdon; it is now commonly written Hodgdon, though sometimes Hodsdon.

†Omissions are in the original. The name is now usually written Rollins. James Rawlins came to Ipswich, Mass., in 1632; he soon removed to Newbury, and from there to Dover, residing in that part of Dover afterwards set off to form Newington. James Rawlins probably came from Devon Co., England, in which county and Cornwall the adjoining county, the Rawlins family is numerous. Robert Rawlyn was mayor of Plymouth, Devon Co., in 1620.—ED.

1750 April 18th We had a Church Meeting at my house to consider & agree upon the best method for Supplying the Communion Table:

- 1: Tho it was thought by some the Communicants s^d pay According to their ability, yet it was voted that all y^t w^r able pay Equally: Leaving the other sort to their own generosity about giving more & the poor that were judged to be so by the officers of the Church to be Exempt.
- 2: That all the members of the Church except the poor who are to be considered pay 1^s: old tenor to use for Each Sacrament.
- 3: That it be pay'd Quarterly that is 3^s O: T: thrice a year the 3 winter months to be omitted.
- 4: That all the Communicants bring their money at y^e Expitery Lecture next papered with their names written on said paper and that at the first payment each member pay 4^s O: T: the odd shilling to make up for back money already due to y^e Deacon*

- May 26: Benjamin Son to Mr Thomas & Mary Pickering was Baptized.
- Item Levi Son to Nehemiah & Abigail Furbur was baptized.

*The term Mistress and its abbreviation Mrs. usually without the punctuation mark was formerly applied to both married and unmarried women indiscriminately. The term Miss has come into general use within the last one hundred and twenty-five years. In these Newington Church records and especially the Newington marriages heretofore published, the reader should constantly keep in mind that the abbreviation Mrs. was applied as often and perhaps oftener to women who had never been married as to women who had been married. Were it not that we are publishing an exact transcript of the records it would perhaps have been less confusing to have left out the term altogether.

WILLIAM TRICKEY WENTWORTH.

IN MEMORIAM.

WILLIAM TRICKEY WENTWORTH.

When called upon to record the death of a loved and cherished friend, the onrush of countless memories unconsciously halts the faltering pen as in fancy we live and move again midst scenes and incidents of bygone days. For nearly a quarter of a century the writer enjoyed a personal acquaintance with Mr. William T. Wentworth, whose death occurred at Dover, N. H., on Monday, January 21, 1907, an acquaintance which ripened and broadened with each succeeding year.

William Trickey⁷ Wentworth was born in Hiram, Me., 11 April 1832; he was son of Stephen⁶ and Lois (Trickey) Wentworth of Hiram, Me., and Dover, N. H., grandson of Jonathan⁵ and Elizabeth (Kimball) Wentworth of Hiram, Me., great-grandson of Ephraim⁴ and Phebe (Wentworth) Wentworth of Rochester, N. H., great-great-grandson of Ephraim³ and Martha (Grant) Wentworth of Dover, N.H., who was son of Ephraim² and Mary (Miller) Wentworth and grandson of Elder William¹ Wentworth, the emigrant.

Mr. William T. Wentworth married 12 November 1856, Miss Lucinda P. McDonald, of Biddeford, Me., a lady of rare personal and mental endowments, whose innate purity and sweetness of character radiated a gracious and helpful influence not only in the home circle, but in the community where so many years of her life has been passed. The children who blessed this union were:

John Herbert Wentworth, born 10 July 1862; died 19 November 1862.

Frederick Wesley Wentworth, born 22 August 1864; a prominent architect of Paterson, New Jersey.

Mr. Wentworth filled many positions of responsibility and trust, including selectman, councilman, alderman, representative to the General Court, superintendent of the Strafford county farm, county commissioner, and member of the board of education. He was a member of Wecohamet Lodge, I. O. O. F.; Prescott Encampment, I. O. O. F.; Wanalanset Tribe of Red Men; of Cochecho Grange, Eastern New Hampshire Pomona Grange and the New Hampshire State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry; and the New Hampshire Genealogical Society; in all of which he was deeply interested. Mr. Wentworth was an attendant of the Pierce Memorial (Universalist) Church, and an indefatigable worker in every enterprise effecting the welfare of the society.

An unbiased tribute to the memory of our departed friend and co-worker appeared in the columns of Foster's Daily Democrat of January 22, 1907, and we quote the closing lines of that article as an evidence of the high esteem in which he was held in the community where for so many years he made his home: "A long and useful life has come to an end; a fond husband, a kind father and a good neighbor has passed from our midst. His many friends will miss him, none however, so much as the bereaved family who in their hour of grief have the sympathy of the entire community."

FRED E. QUIMBY, Necrologist.

REWARD OFFERED.

Editor of The N. H. Genealogical Record.

Dear Sir:—As the genealogist of the Seavey family I am extremely anxious to obtain information regarding a woman named Helen Seavey, who is said to have lived in Portsmouth, N. H., or vicinity during the Revolutionary War. After many months, of the most careful and devoted research, I have been quite unable to discover any trace of her, save in an interesting historical romance by Augustus C. Buell—Paul Jones, Founder of the American Navy. I am aware that her name has been coupled with that of Betsey Ross, as a maker of "first" American flags; but if she never existed, save in the brain of the ingenious Buell, why should she be permitted to enjoy such distinction? And if she ever really did exist, why cannot I have her to adorn the pages of her family's genealogy?—so I wish to offer through The N. H. Genealogical Record, a reward of twenty-five dollars, for positive proof that Helen Seavey was living in Portsmouth, N. H. during the Revolution; for the names of her parents and husband, and the dates of her birth, marriage and death. Trusting that you will give this communication as much publicity as possible. I am,

Very sincerely yours,
Stamford, Conn., 7 March, 1907,

(Mrs.) A. B. Hall.

BOOK NOTICE.

HISTORY OF BOOTHBAY, SOUTHPORT AND BOOTHBAY HARBOR, MAINE. 1623—1905. WITH FAMILY GENEALOGIES. By Francis B. Greene. Portland: Loring, Short and Harmon. 1906. Cloth, 8vo. pp. 693, Illustrations 38.

It is very seldom that we find a Town history, so carefully written and complete in detail as the History of Boothbay, Southport and Boothbay Harbor, Me., by Francis B. Greene, of Boothbay Harbor. Mr. Greene has the pleasing faculty of arranging and writing the naturally dry historical facts into a very interesting history. There are four hundred and sixty-one pages of the work devoted to the history of the three towns, which until within a few years formed the town of Boothbay; the remainder of the book contains family genealogies, in many instances running back to the settlement of the country. Boothbay in the Revolution is particularly full, containing 117 service records obtained from the Massachusetts Archives. All of the publishments of intentions of marriage, from 1766 to 1820 are given, in fact the book is full of most interesting and important historical and genealogical records and data. Only 1800 copies were printed; less than 400 copies remain unsold. Price is three dollars per copy. Those wishing the book should order immediately.

Address all orders to Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

F. B. GREENE.

QUERIES.

66. Information wanted of the following persons; who were their parents, whom did they marry, what was the date of their birth and death, etc.?

BOOK NOTICES.

HISTORY OF PLYMOUTH, NEW HAMPSHIRE. By Ezra S. Stearns, A. M. Cambridge, Mass.: The University Press. 1906. Cloth, 8vo., Vol. I, pp. 632 and xvi, 25 Illustrations; Vol. II, pp. 801 and viii.

Any work from the pen of Hon. Ezra S. Stearns, who for many years was secretary of state, for New Hampshire, needs no commendation; it speaks for itself in its general excellency and elegance of diction, and his latest book the History of Plymouth, New Hampshire is the crowning work of his life. Mr. Stearns is a charming writer of history and genealogy. His long public service has given him an experience with men and public affairs that is very helpful to him as a writer. His language is clear, precise and direct; at the same time he has the happy faculty of getting and holding the interest of the reader and carrying him along through the entire work.

The History of Plymouth, New Hampshire, was written for the town of Plymouth. At the annual meeting of that town, on March 12, 1895, a committee was directed to prepare a history of the town of Plymouth. After much delay the services of Hon. Ezra S. Stearns of Fitchburg, Mass., formerly of New Hampshire, were secured in May 1902 and this history is the result. It is written in two volumes; the first, is devoted to narrative and the second, to genealogy, being very full and complete. Plymouth was incorporated as a town July 15, 1763. There were sixty-two original grantees or proprietors. Price of the history is three dollars per volume, send all orders to The Selectmen, Plymouth, N. H.

GENEALOGY OF THE STIMPSON FAMILY OF CHARLESTOWN, MASS., AND ALLIED LINES. By Charles Collyer Whittier. Boston: Press of David Clapp & Son. 1907. Cloth, 8vo., pp. 206, 12 Illustrations.

We are glad to give notice of the publication of another New England genealogy; this time it is of the Stimpson Family of Charlestown, Mass., one of the old families whose descendants, many of them, now live in New Hampshire. Andrew Stevenson, also called Andrew Stimson, ancestor of the family, came from New Castle-upon-Tyne, England shortly after 1637, and resided first at Cambridge, and later removed to Charlestown. He was a shoemaker by trade. In 1656 he was appointed prison keeper, which office he held until 1672. He died in 1683; his will was dated May 23, 1681, inventory was filed June 28, 1683. The name of his wife was Jane.

It is fortunate for the family that Mr. Charles Collyer Whittier of Boston, Mass., was selected to be the family historian and compiler of the genealogy. The work shows great care and research in its preparation, is well written, and in the arrangement of families and in giving genealogical lines it follows the system now commonly used in New England. It has a good index of names, also of places. Mr. Whittier can well be proud of his success in book-making, we think his first experience, though of this we are not quite sure. The book is for sale at three dollars per copy; send all orders to Mr. Charles C. Whittier, 374 Blue Hill Avenue, Roxbury, Mass.

THE GRAVES WE DECORATE. STORER POST, NO. 1, DEPARTMENT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, PORTSMOUTH, N. H. Prepared for Memorial Day, 1907, by Joseph Foster, member Storer Post. With an Appendix containing the List of Graves and Additional Records prepared in 1893. Portsmouth: Press of John D. Randall. 1907. Paper, 8vo., pp. 76.

This pamphlet contains a list of 574 graves, which Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., Portsmouth, N. H., decorate on Memorial day. The list gives name of soldier or sailor, his service, rank or ship, date of his death, age, and the location of grave in cemetery with name of cemetery and location of the same. It contains a record of all the soldiers and sailors in the U. S. Army and Navy whose graves are known in Portsmouth, New Castle, Greenland, Newington and Rye, places situate within the jurisdiction of Storer Post, No. 1. There are 31 graves in the war of the Revolution; war of 1812, 20 graves; Mexican war, 23 graves; Mexican war and war of the Rebellion, 4 graves; war of the Rebellion, 495 graves; Philippine war, 1 grave, making a total of 574 graves. It is probable that not one in ten of the Revolutionary graves are known, and without doubt the list of these graves will grow in number after long and careful research reveals their location.

In the Appendix, each name is again given in alphabetical order with a full and complete record of their services, in many instances their genealogical record and other very important data is given. This is a very valuable pamphlet for those people interested in Portsmouth and vicinity. Price of the pamphlet is fifty cents, post paid. Send all orders to Mr. Joseph Foster, 26 Middle Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

A GUIDE TO MASSACHUSETTS LOCAL HISTORY. By Charles A. Flagg. Press of The Salem Press Company, Salem, Mass. 1907. Cloth, 8vo., pp. 256 and ix. 14 Outline Maps.

This is an indispensable handbook to the historian and genealogist working on local history or genealogy in Massachusetts. It is a bibliographic index to the literature of the towns, cities and counties of that state, including books, pamphlets, articles in periodicals and collected works, books in preparation, historical manuscripts, newspaper clippings, etc., complete as to local history, the line being drawn so as to include political, military, genealogical, biographical and descriptive material. No public library in America can afford to be without this book. It is from the pen of Hon. Charles A. Flagg, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

This work has taken much research. The three hundred and fifty-four towns and cities of the commonwealth, all of which are mentioned, are considered alphabetically in counties. There is an alphabetic index at the end for the purpose of making consultation easy for all. The price of the book is six dollars net, with twenty cents extra for postage. Only a limited number of copies were printed. Send all orders without delay to The Salem Press Company, Salem, Mass.

NOTE. The above query came unsigned, it got separated from the letter that came with it and we do not know the name of the person who sent it; will the writer send the address so that we can make a note of it in the Record; and hereafter will all persons sending queries see that their full name and address is signed underneath the queries sent. It has seemed right that our subscribers should have some space set apart, say two pages in each number of this magazine for their queries. Sometimes the answer of one query is worth the price of several years subscription. Unlike most magazines, our query department is free to subscribers, and usually the answers are sent direct to the persons sending the queries, hence the importance of publishing full name and address of writer with each query.

73. SPENCE.—Are the dates of death of Purser Keith Spence, U. S. Navy, “26 September, 1826”; of his wife Mary (Traill) Spence, “13 January 1824”; and of Captain Robert Traill Spence, U. S. Navy, “26 September, 1827”, correctly stated in the article on “The Traill and Spence Families of Portsmouth, N. H.,” in the N. H. Genealogical Record for January, 1907, Vol. IV, page 6?

The following evidence is offered. “Died”.—“In this town, at her mansion-house in Broad-street [now State Street] on Thursday morning 8th inst. in the 70th year of her age, Mrs. Mary Spence, only daughter of the late Hon. Robert Traill, and relict of Keith Spence, Esq. Her funeral will take place on JAN 18th inst.

(N. H. Gazette, (Portsmouth), January 13, 1824.

“Died.”—“At his seat, near Baltimore, Capt. Robert Traill Spence, formerly of this town, and a captain in the U. S.

Navy. He had recently been appointed to the command of the West India squadron. The 'National Intelligencer', in speaking of the decease of Capt. Spence says, 'that his sudden death has excited more than usual regret. His excellent character, high professional merit, with pleasing and unassuming manners endeared him to every one who knew him.' The Navy Department has issued an order to the commanders of the Navy Yards, Stations, and Squadrons, to cause the flags of the Navy to be hoisted at half-mast, and thirteen minute guns to be fired at 12 o'clock on the day after the receipt of the order; also to the officers to wear crape on the left arm for thirty days, as a mark of respect to his memory."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH RECORDS, ROCHESTER, N. H.

[Rochester was incorporated as a town, May 10, 1722. The present towns of Farmington and Milton were formerly a part of Rochester. Farmington was set off and incorporated December 1, 1798, and Milton was set off and incorporated June 11, 1802. A part of the farm of Rufus C. Varney was severed and annexed to Barrington, July 10, 1846. Rochester was incorporated as a city, March 31, 1891. It is commonly said that Capt. Timothy Roberts, formerly of Dover, was the first settler in Rochester, and that he moved into that town, December 26, 1728. We have no confidence, however, in this statement; there are good reasons for believing that settlements were made in what is now Rochester at least sixty-five years before the town was incorporated. Rev. Amos Main was the first settled minister, he became pastor of the church at Rochester in 1737.]

CORRECTION. The words (Exeter man) in 28th line, page 125, Vol. IV, should read (Exeter, Maine).—ED.

QUERIES.

74. WILLIAMS.—Chase Williams, born probably in Hampton Falls in 1749, was the father of Walter Williams who married Abigail Marshall all of Hampton Falls. Can any one furnish the maiden name of his wife and her ancestry? Did Chase Williams render service of any kind during the American Revolution? Chase Williams was the son of Walter and Mary (Hilliard) Williams and the grandson of Edward and Mary (Swaine) Williams. Who were the ancestors of Edward Williams? (Miss) Lillian A. Norton.

1949 Biltmore Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

75. EVANS.—Wanted, the parentage of Capt. Hopley Yeaton. His first wife was Comfort Marshall. Did they have a daughter Comfort and did she marry, if so, whom? Did their son Hopley marry, if so, whom?

R. W. Sawyer.

Bangor, Me.

76. KENNY.—Stephen Kenny, of Meredith, N. H., born July 5, 1771; married February 15, 1797, (or January 14, 1798,) Hannah Hawkins, who was born April 8, 1775, and died at Meredith, November 17, 1860. He died at Meredith, December 14, 1847, leaving three children, Melitable, Trueworthy and Patience Kenny. Wanted the ancestry of Stephen Kenny and Hannah Hawkins.

BEAN.—Major William Bean, of Moultonborough, N. H., born August 4, 1770; married, about 1797, Mary Alls, who was born March 23, 1771, and died March 1, 1840. He died January 26, 1819, leaving four children, Horatio Nelson, Mary, Hiram Rollins, and Lettice Alls Bean. Wanted, the ancestry of Major William Bean and Mary (Alls) Bean.

77. NOWELL.—For some time I have been collecting data regarding the Nowell family, particularly the descendants of Capt. Peter Nowell, of York, Maine and should be pleased to receive information, and to correspond with members of this family. There is not much information available in reference to the later generations, and must be collected from members, of the family, who have records and facts in their possession. Capt. Peter Nowell born 1670, probably in the Isle of Jersey in the English Channel, removed from Salem, Mass. to York, Me. in summer of 1695. He married in 1698, Sarah, daughter of Peter and Mary (Davis) Weare, of York, born January, 1676, died September 13, 1729; married secondly Mary Preble, widow of Abraham Preble, February 19, 1730. He was very prominent in the history of York and died May 10, 1740, leaving a family of six sons and three daughters. Their names were as follows:

1. Peter, born February 24, 1698/9; died young.
2. Sarah, born June 29, 1700; married Capt. Jonathan Bane.
3. Mary, born July 15, 1702; married Capt. John Lane.
4. John, "Deacon", born March 18, 1705; m. Tabitha Came.
5. Peter, born 1707; m. Lydia Junkins.
6. Ebenezer, born Nov. 12, 1709; m. Patience Hamilton.
7. Abraham, born Feb. 28, 1711/12; m. Humility Preble.
8. Paul, born 1714; m. Mary Rutling.

9. Silas, born 1719; m. 1st Hannah Came; 2nd Rachel Wallingford, daughter of Judge Thomas Wallingford of Somersworth, N. H.

10. Esther, born July 12, 1721.

Descendants of Ebenezer and Silas lived in Berwick, Me., nearly all persons of the name coming from Maine or New Hampshire probably descend from Capt. Peter. There was likely some relationship between Capt. Peter Nowell and Increase Nowell, Secretary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, who came with Winthrop in 1630, but this has never been established.

78. QUIMBY.—Wanted, the ancestry of Miriam Quimby, of Kingston, N. H. She married Stephen Eastman, of Hawke, March 1, 1769? She probably had relatives, or descendants, Laban and Jacob.

(Rev.) S. E. Quimby.

Station A, Derry, N. H.

79. EVANS.—Wanted, the ancestry of Judge Ethni Evans, born in Hinsdale, N. H., in 1770. He became the pioneer and founder of Evans Mills, N. Y., in 1804. He married 1st, —— Coffeen [Coffin?]; 2d, Widow Lathrop; 3d, Widow Treat. Children: Omrod, Alcesta, Civilian, Polly A. and Almeda. He had brothers: Eldad, Silvanus.

80. MORSE.—Sarah Morse of Newbury, or Newburyport, Mass. was born Jan. 23, 1722/3; married June 27, 1749, Joseph Munson of Scarborough, Me. She was daughter of Samuel, born Dec. 7, 1688, and Elizabeth, daughter of Capt. Hugh and Sarah (Moody) Morse and granddaughter of Deacon Benjamin, born March 28, 1640, married Aug. 26, 1667, Ruth Sawyer Morse, and great-granddaughter of Anthony and Mary Morse. Can some one inform me where Joseph and Sarah (Morse) Munson lived previous to 1765, when they went to Machias, Me., with the first settlers of that place; also the date and place of birth, marriage and death of their four sons, Stephen, who married Sarah Foster; Joseph, Jr., who married Ann Woodruff; John, who married Sarah Niles, May 18, 1783; and Robert, who married Ruth Eliot?

FOSTER.—WOODRUFF.—NILES.—ELLIOT.—Wanted, the ancestors and where they lived of Sarah Foster, who married Stephen Munson; of Ann Woodruff, who married Joseph Munson; of Sarah Niles, who married John Munson; and of Ruth Eliot, who married Robert Munson. It is probable the latter couple were married in Scarborough or Machias, Me.

GRAY.—MAKER.—RAMSDELL.—John Maker of Cutler, Me., about 1785 to 1810 or 1815, married Molly Gray, who is said to have been of a wealthy Irish noble family, and ran away from home, coming to America. She landed at Cutler and became the wife of John Maker. Can some one enlighten me on the ancestors of Molly Gray? John Maker is said to have gone from Cape Cod to Cutler about 1775 to 1785. Was there a Maker family on Cape Cod at this time, and does anybody know of a family of Makers in which there was a John? This John and Molly had among others a son Reuben Maker, who was born in Cutler, Me., and married a Betsy Ramsdell, March 22, 1819, at Cutler. Betsy Ramsdell was the daughter of Bartlett and Emma (Bean) Ramsdell of Harrington, Me., and later of Cutler. Bartlett Ramsdell was a schoolmaster, born Feb. 18, 1770; married April 14, 1795, died Jan. 25, 1832. Emma (Bean) Ramsdell, his wife, was born Dec. 6, 1773; died July 22, 1814. Can some one inform me who were Bartlett Ramsdell's ancestors, also who were Emma (Bean) Ramsdell's ancestors?

CUTTS.—Richard Cutts of Essex, Eng., father of John¹, Richard¹ and Robert¹, who came to New England, was a member of Oliver Cromwell's Parliament. He died in 1654. John¹ was of Portsmouth, N. H. Richard¹ was of Portsmouth and Isles of Shoals, where he was a fishing merchant. Robert¹ was of Portsmouth, then Barbadoes. Can anyone inform me, whom Richard¹, the fishing merchant of Portsmouth and Isles of Shoals, married, and who his wife's parents were?

BUTTERWORTH.—On page 227, Vol. III, "Mayflower Descendants," among a list of inhabitants of Rehoboth, Mass., who petitioned Gov. Bradford concerning the division of land between the town of Rehoboth and Captain Miles Standish, dated June 28, 1653, are the following names: John Butterworth, Robert Martin, William Sabin and Nicholas Ide. Was this John Butterworth the father of Mary, who married Sampson Mason of Rehoboth about 1650?

MARTIN.—Was Robert Martin the grandfather of Mary Martin, who married Hezekiah Horton?

SABIN.—Was William Sabin grandfather of Elizabeth Sabin, who married Robert Miller?

IDE.—Was Nicholas Ide the husband of Mrs. Ide, who married Thomas Bliss? Albert C. Mason.

Franklin, Mass.

72. LEAVITT.—(NOTE.)—Since publishing Query No. 72, the address of the writer of that query has been received; address all communications to John S. Leavitt.

51 Warren St., West Medford, Mass.

ANSWER TO QUERY.

80. MARTIN.—Henry J. Martin in his "Martin Genealogy" says that Mary Martin married Hezekiah Horton, Dec. 23, 1735, and that she was born March 17, 1715 and was daughter of John³ Martin by his second wife Mercy, who was the widow of Richard Thurber. Mary Martin was granddaughter of John² and Joanna (Esten) Martin and great-granddaughter of Richard¹ Martin of Rehoboth, Mass.
